

It's highly recommended that you watch each film the week before we discuss it in class. Here's a list of sources for these titles.

If you subscribe to Netflix, all of these films are available there.

If you get Turner Classic Movies, you might be able to find some titles either on its regular schedule or at On Demand.

These titles might also be available on other On Demand channels.

If you stream films, these titles might be available on your sources. Search to find out titles you can access, where to get them, and how much they might cost.

If you subscribe to Vudu (www.vudu.com), you'll be able to rent all but two of these titles (One, Two, Three and The Fortune Cookie) for viewing on your computer ($2.99 – $3.99 each).

They are all available for viewing, for free, on your computer, at the following sites:
